

Risk Communication and Terrorism:

New Clinical Approaches

Speaker Information:

We are very excited that you have agreed to present or moderate at the First Annual Deployment Health Conference: Risk Communication and Terrorism: New Approaches to Clinical Care. This sheet will provide key information for you regarding the conference.

Required Information:

There are a number of items that are required and will also maximize the learning for conference attendees. The following items are needed from you so we can obtain Continuing Health Education Credits and so we can prepare a curriculum guide for each participant:

Items and Date Needed:

- ❖ Continuing Health Education Worksheet by June 30, 2002 (which includes a short bio, head and shoulder photo, abstract, learning objectives, format, etc).
- ❖ Curriculum Vitae by June 30, 2002.
- ❖ Signed Disclosure Statement by (required by the USUHS) June 30, 2002
- ❖ Copy of Presentation/Handouts/Bibliography by July 31, 2002.
- ❖ You can save the Continuing Health Education Worksheet and the Disclosure forms by using Save As but cannot complete them online. You can email us the information but will have to sign and date the disclosure information.

Please send all information to:

The DHCC

Attn: Vivian I. P. Sheliga

PO BOX 59667

Washington, DC 20307-5001

Email: http://www.Vivian.Sheliga@na.amedd.army.mil/

Travel/Lodging Arrangements:

We want to ensure that your travel arrangements and room will meet your needs. Thus, we need to have the following information from you which is located on the website: Arrival date, departure date, room preference, contact information all of which is located on the website. We will cover your travel to and from the conference, your lodging and a per diem, and pay a $300 honorarium (except military speakers). We will assist all speakers with their room reservations and provide instructions ref: reimbursement for airline payment. The conference will be at the: Hilton Alexandria Mark Center in Alexandria, Virginia.